September 2011 Newsletter

Hello Everyone!

Many months have passed since my March 2011 Newsletter. As the last few weeks of summer lead us into the Fall Equinox and the final harvest, I've got some stories to share.

A long-time friend from my Boulder Business Women's Network, Vivian Dullien, Ph.D., has come forward and we are collaborating on a medically-based, scientific study on sleep issues in adults and children. Our model will utilize Earth Acupuncture on residential homes where irregularities are found in the sleep patterns of the family who inhabit the property. Clients will remain anonymous for our case studies.

We are encouraging prospective clients with a discounted price. We'd like 60 homeowners to consider this: 30 representing the "cured" properties and 30 representing the placebo group.

When the study is completed, the placebo group will be guaranteed the full installation of all three stressful grids! The first is the Hartmann Grid, which is man-made stress lines on the south and west sides of the structure. After we cure that, we will install rods on the Geopathic Grid (earth-made) stress lines on all four sides. And finally, we will mitigate the Personal Stress Grid for all people and pets that inhabit the property.

I discovered and named the Personal Stress Grid, which is one of the reasons I am recognized as a Master Dowser by the International Society of Dowsters. In more than 90% of the Earth Acupuncture installations I've done since 1993, I've located the stress lines responsible for little "Jimmy's" ADD/ADHD and little "Lizzy's" immune and behavior challenges. Within the adult community, I've found and mitigated the Personal lines known to negatively impact the home office, and even found the Personal lines blocking the sale of the property.

Since the costs of metals we use are "down" right now (copper containing mixed metals or stainless steel centers), so are our prices! So, instead of charging $1.00 per sq. ft., we are only charging 65 cents per sq. ft. of living space, including an incorporated garage. If the garage is considered "detached," we will not charge for this, although in theory, that structure is also "cured."

What does this mean for you? Instead of paying $1.00 per sq. ft. of your 2000 sq. ft. home (which would be $2,000), you would pay only $1,300, thus saving you $700.

I encourage all of you who have already experienced the many benefits of this work to refer your family and friends. When a referral becomes a client of mine, you earn $50 worth of services from my practice or workshops.

For those of you who question the validity of this research and work I've completed and taught, particularly if you or anyone else has any SLEEP CHALLENGES requiring natural or traditional medications, please enter this study! When our metal prices increase, we will still only charge 70 cents per sq. ft.

You do the math! Isn't your family's well-being worth it? And how about the critters and plants you've nurtured where you are?

The following information is from a book I carry, Slim Spurling's Universe, by Cal Garrison (Frederick, CO: IX-EL Publishing, 2004), pp. 60-61:

The Tensor

Slim first ran across the concept of the tensor in Geometrodynamics, by John Archibald Wheeler and published by the Italian Journal of Physics in 1957. Wheeler was a physicist at Princeton University who had worked with Einstein and trained many important theoretical physicists.

. . . a tensor can be described as a distortion in a space/ time/ gravity grid resulting from the presence of a particular geometry or shape. One of the properties of a tensor field is that it transmits and transfers energy.

. . . The tensor properties of [Slim's] ring are extremely important and have a great deal to do with its effectiveness in changing conditions. The quality of the energy that is transferred is what is important, however, and that quality appears to be partially due to the precise measurements used in the ring construction.

And consider these words from Sandra Ingerman's Medicine for the Earth: How to Transform Personal and Environmental Toxins (NY: Three Rivers Press, 2001), pp. 159-160:

It is time to return to a lifestyle where we form a creative partnership with the nature spirits. First, there must be the desire on our part. Then we must focus our intention and concentration on calling on the nature spirits. . . . And if we come from a place of love, the nature spirits will respond to us. . . . We will begin to see that the pollution and toxins that we have created from a place of disharmony and separation naturally begin to heal on their own.

Every life form on this planet has an intelligence. Just observe how different life forms live, collect food and nutrition, and survive in adverse conditions, and you will know inside yourself the truth that all life is intelligent. . . .

The only thing that separates us from the rest of life is that our destiny is to caretake the earth so that all of life might thrive.

I am honored to use the years of work and teachings of Sandra and Slim in a large part of my workshops and in my daily life. It's been 20 years since I met and started working with both of these amazing people. It is in celebration that I recognize the new study of Earth Acupuncture and sleep issues, a tribute to the inspiring relationships I maintain with both these remarkable healers, and to all the courageous Souls who have had the ability to step fully into their wellness.
